Why visit London with your family?

There are many reasons to visit London with its children! Simple walks transport you to a very special world, crossing in front of mythical places and monuments.

Organizing a family holiday in a foreign country with children is not always easy; not only must you schedule daily activities to fill your day, but also offer only those that will surely please your children, differentiate them from activities where they are sure they may be bored.

And indeed, London is the ideal destination for a family vacation; there are a thousand and one things to do in London, activities and attractions for the whole family, huge parks, musicals, shows, interactive museums.

Eating with young ones can be a challenge. Many restaurants in London are family friendly. Most of the time, these restaurants clearly display their kids eat free policy. Just order an adult meal so that the children's menu is offered.

Day 3: London Madame (Tussaud Wax Museum, Medieval Banquet)

Today is yours to plan as you wish. It may be a great day to use your prepaid admissions and visit Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum and the Sea Life Aquarium. Tonight, travel back in time at a medieval banquet complete with entertainment! Eat and party like a king at a medieval banquet hosted by the incomparable Henry VIII whose appetite and wit remain undimmed by the passage of time. Feast on a four-course dinner and revel in lively music and dancing. This journey back in time that features jousting knights amazing acrobats' melodic minstrels and talented troupers – all the ingredients for a right royal romp. The regal banquet takes place by flickering torchlight in the vaulted cellars of Ivory House just a stone's throw from the Tower of London and Tower Bridge. It is located on land that was granted to 13 knights in the 10th century by Saxon King Edgar the Peaceful. This rambunctious evening harks back to this chivalrous past with sword-fights and music from the medieval and Renaissance courts of Europe. [B/D]
