Sofia, Rila, Boyana, Pernik
Fun, Folklore, Relaxation, Culture, History

This program may be operated for individuals or for groups
This is a suggested itinerary

You will be touched by the magic of the masquerade tradition that still survives in the region of Pernik. Everything here is for real! You will surrender to the appeal of Bulgarian folklore reinforced with healthy helpings of food and drinks. You will feel the creative presence of generations of exponents of the tradition. An incandescent fiery spectacle, bonfires and light shows will envelop you in the festival's mystery.

Day 1 – Fri, TBA: Sofia

Transfer from Sofia airport to the hotel and check-in. Morning at leisure. In the afternoon a short drive to the city center for a walking tour in the capital. Sofia is a city with a 7000-year history, which makes it a unique phenomenon in Europe, and places it among the settlements dating back to most distant antiquity. It has the hectic atmosphere of a big capital city and a compact center where all main sites can be visited on foot. Roads from all parts of the world have been meeting here - peoples have come and gone, civilizations have advanced and declined, but the city has remained. Our walking tour includes: Alexander Nevski Memorial Cathedral, St. Sofia Church, Parliament Square, the monument of King Liberator, Russian Church, National Theatre, The Ethnographic Museum, The National art Gallery outside, Archeological Museum outside, the Presidency, St. George`s Rotunda and St. Nedelya square. Some time to rest and relax before dinner at a local restaurant. Return to the hotel for overnight. [B/D]

Day 2 – Sat, TBA: Sofia (Rila Monastery & Boyana Church)

After breakfast we drive around 1:30 hours to Rila Monastery, a UNESCO site, the most famous and fascinating monastery in Bulgaria. The entire complex is quite impressive for its size. The 4-floor residential part consists of no less than 300 monks' cells, 4 chapels, an abbot's room, kitchen, library and guestrooms for donors. The kitchen is particularly interesting for its really huge cooking vessels. The exterior of the monastery is no less intriguing for its high and severe stone walls (reaching 4 floors and even more at some places) cut through by small windows – reminding of a military fort rather than a monastery. Once in the complex, it is worth visiting the monastery's museum, which hosts a unique work of art, namely The Raphael's Cross. The cross is made of a whole piece of wood (32" x 17") and is named after its creator. After the visit your guide will take you to a typical fish restaurant for lunch. In the afternoon we drive back another 90 minutes to visit Boyana Church, a one-floor building dating from the end of the 10th century and the beginning of the 11th century, a site not to be missed during a visit to Sofia. The church is so precious because its frescoes are considered one of the earliest traces of the Renaissance in Europe. The faces of the saints, as well as their general representation, are just as particular, all different from each other and emerging from any established canon of representation. The frescoes have a total of 240 drawings, most of which date from the year 1259. After the visit a 20-minute drive to the center of Sofia to enjoy dinner at a local restaurant before returning to the hotel for overnight. [B/L/D]

Day 3 – Sun, TBA: Sofia (Pernik Surva Festival)

Today we take a short drive to Pernik to spend the day of the Surva International Festival of Masquerade Games, which is the oldest festival of its kind in Bulgaria. Once a year, during the last weekend in January, this small industrial town becomes awash with color as it has done since the festival's inauguration in 1966. In 2015, UNESCO designated the festival as being a site of intangible cultural heritage, as it is a unique event that is unlike anything else held worldwide and displays traditions that were almost entirely lost during Bulgaria's years of communist rule. It is a celebration of ancient folklore and pagan traditions, which is little known by Western tourists. Participants dress in a wonderfully weird array of elaborate costumes and masks including fluffy outfits that resemble large mythical beasts designed to ward off evil spirits and bring good luck for the upcoming spring harvest. Outfits are typically made from sheep skin and wool and decorated with colorful beads, ribbons, wood, fabrics, papier maché and animal horns, and are accessorized with floral headdresses and bell-laden belts. About 100 groups from every folklore region of Bulgaria attend, as well as a few international participants, and usually there are about 6,000 visitors at the event. The masks vary depending on the region the participants are from and those taking part in the festivities are known as Kukeri. Originally all the Kukeri would have been single men trying to attract a wife, but nowadays more women and children are also becoming involved. During the parades we'll get to experience a variety of colorful customs, folk songs and dances, as well as seeing a number of outdoor exhibitions around the town. After dinner at a local restaurant we return to Sofia for overnight. [B/D]
